Re: Trustees of Local 813 v. Joro Carting, Inc., Case No. 07 CV 04710 (EDNY)

Dear Judge Matsumoto:

We represent defendant. I write in response to plaintiffs' counsel's letter dated July 2, 2010 in which he states that he cannot "in good conscience" complete the parties' settlement. I can't speak for plaintiffs' counsel's conscience, but the issue here seems simple: His clients appear to have decided over the last six weeks that they would prefer not to provide the general release that they agreed to provide in May 2010. Attached hereto is the parties' May 17, 2010 correspondence that confirmed the terms of the parties' agreement. (I have redacted the consideration to be paid to plaintiffs.) Plaintiffs' counsel objected to those terms for the first time on July 2, 2010, when I provided him with a draft settlement agreement.

Although we cannot compel plaintiffs to honor their agreement, it is not unreasonable of defendant to expect plaintiffs to do so. Moreover, we agreed to settle this case to bring to an end defendant's relationship with Local 813. I am available for a telephone conference, but our client's position is firm, and rightfully so.

Respectfully submitted,

James R. Anderson (JA-2568)

Re: Local 813 IBT v Joro Carting Inc, 07 CV 4710 (EDNY)

Dear Mr. Hirschler:

I have your letter dated today. You have correctly set forth the terms of our agreement, except that Local 813 is to provide a general release of Joro Carting, Inc. for the 2003-2005 and subsequent CBAs.

Very truly yours,
